Location

Milton Keynes is one of the UK's most strategically connected commercial centres, offering exceptional access by road, rail and air. Located approximately 80 km (50 miles) from London, 113 km (70 miles) from Birmingham and midway between Oxford & Cambridge., the city benefits from immediate proximity to the M1 Motorway via Junctions 13 and 14, providing rapid north–south links and easy connections to the wider national motorway network, including the M25, M6 and A5.

Rail connectivity is equally strong. Milton Keynes Central sits on the West Coast Main Line, delivering frequent, fast services to London Euston in as little as 30 minutes, as well as direct routes to Birmingham, Manchester, Liverpool and Glasgow. This efficiency makes the city an attractive hub for both regional and national business operations. The East West Rail (EWR) project is a major infrastructure programme designed to re-establish a strategic rail link across the Oxford–Cambridge Arc. The first stage of this project is well underway and when completed, this transformative transport programme will unlock growth across the region and dramatically improve cross-country rail travel in central England.

For international travel, Milton Keynes is served by several major airports. London Luton Airport is just over half an hour away, offering extensive European and global connections. London Heathrow, Birmingham Airport and London Stansted are all easily accessible, giving businesses a choice of international gateways within comfortable reach.

Milton Keynes is one of the largest city economies in the United Kingdom, producing over £16.7 billion (GVA). Home to 12,400 businesses (2024) per capita, Milton Keynes has one of the highest business stocks in the country. It is one of the fastest growing cities in the UK, with plans for over 50,000 new jobs by 2050. The talent pool in Milton Keynes is further enhanced by the presence of institutions of higher learning such as Cranfield University and the Open University, one of the largest universities in Europe, and a leading innovator in digital learning and educational technology. The city is home to many blue chip, global companies such as the Red Bull Racing Formula One team.

The property benefits from being immediately adjacent to a McDonalds and Costa Coffee Drive Thru Restaurant, with other surrounding occupiers including BP Chargemaster and Talk Talk.

The park occupies a prominent corner position, accessed via Saxon Street.

Woodlands Business Park was Milton Keynes' first out of town business location. Originally developed in 1986 for the British Standards Institute, the site has evolved and diversified and is now home to a range of occupiers.

Description

The property is located at the north-eastern end of the business park comprising Larch House, Elm House and Maple House which are modern, detached self-contained office buildings constructed in 2006, providing accommodation over ground to second floors.

The cluster provides for 134 car parking spaces.

Part of this cluster includes White Clarke House which was sold in 2008, including the right to use 76 car parking spaces.

The Park also includes a group of offices built in the 1980's at the south-western end of the site (Beech House, Ash House, Willow House, Birch House and Cedar House), plus three plots of land which have been sold off on long leases. Plot A has been sold off to VUR Village Properties Limited (Village Hotels), who obtained planning permission in 2019 for a six-storey hotel totalling 83,000 sq ft.

Plots B & C have been sold off to Tungsten Properties who have secured planning consent for two new industrial and logistics warehouses. The units will total c.20,000 sq ft and c.45,000 sq ft, with 10 metre eaves, secure self-contained yards, and fully fitted offices. Tungsten is currently in the process of obtaining funding for the scheme.

Many office buildings have been converted to residential use which would appear to have helped maintain office rental levels.
